

Scientists and Mathematicians in Schools

Julie McClements

Senior Project Officer –
Monitoring and Evaluation
STEM Professionals in Schools

CSIRO Education and Outreach

CSIRO is Australia's national science agency and one of Australia's largest science education providers offering a range of education programs to assist teachers to engage students in the learning of STEM.

This seminar will describe some of CSIRO's national programs for schools including; STEM Professionals in Schools, Creativity in Research, Engineering, Science and Technology (CREST), Digital Careers and Sustainable Futures. The seminar will show how connecting STEM professionals with teachers through the STEM Professionals in Schools program provides access to real-world experiences in STEM, and how program impact is to be evaluated by embedding monitoring and evaluation into CSIRO's working practice.

Julie McClements is a senior project officer in CSIRO within the STEM Professionals in Schools program. Julie has a background in education, teaching physics at secondary level, and is currently undertaking her Master of Education at Flinders University in Education (Research, Evaluation and Assessment).
